Assessment

The specific skills and knowledge required for a particular workplace application are set out in Units of Competency and these can be grouped together to make up a nationally recognised Qualification. Nationally recognised Qualifications are set out in Training Packages and these can be viewed at <http://www.training.gov.au> Each Qualification has a list of employability skills which describe the non-technical skills and competencies that are important for effective and successful participation in the workforce.

For each Qualification there are specific employability skills listed under the following headings:

- Communication
- Initiative and enterprise
- Teamwork
- Problem solving
- Planning and organizing
- Self-management
- Learning technology

These employability skills will be part of the assessment requirements of a nationally accredited course. A summary of the employability skills to be developed through a Qualification can be downloaded from <http://www.training.gov.au>. It is important to note that the rules and requirements of a Unit of Competency and a Qualification are applied to any student regardless of where they are or the mode of training delivery provided.

Each Unit of Competency is made up of the following:

- Elements
- Performance criteria
- Required knowledge and skills
- A range of variables
- Critical aspects of evidence
- Any pre or co requisites (if applicable)

Eagle Training Services is committed to ensuring that all judgements made by Assessors is consistent against the competency standards and examined along with the evidence presented by the student. A judgment based on evidence provided will be either:

Competent Being found competent in a defined task as required by a defined standard or specified performance criteria

Not Yet Competent (NYC) Has not yet provided sufficient evidence to demonstrate competence

To be deemed competent in any unit of competency students must be able to provide evidence of the required skills and knowledge to complete work tasks in a range of situations and environments, including simulated applications in the classroom over a period of time.

Evidence is the material proof that a student has performed the specified competency or task to the required standard over a period of time. Evidence requirements are determined by the unit of competency, employability skill requirements, industry expectations, Government regulations, and your qualifications and current experience. The objective is for the student to show that they have achieved the unit's competencies.

A student's evidence must also demonstrate the following:

- That you can do the job or task to the required standard
- Understand why the job should be done in a particular way
- Handle unexpected issues or problems
- Work with others in a team
- Do more than one thing at a time, e.g. perform the task and be aware of the occupational health and safety requirements
- Know the workplace rules and procedures Students may be assessed by one or more of the following methods.

Evidence gathering methods commonly utilised by the Eagle Training Services include, but are in no way limited to:

- Observation
- Oral questioning
- Workplace performance
- Role-play / simulation
- Projects/assignments
- Knowledge questions
- Skills portfolio
- Certificates and awards
- Current licences
- Position descriptions and performance reviews
- Third party reports

Students will be advised of the assessment methodology and evidence to be gathered before training commences.

8. REASSESSMENT & APPEALS PROCESS

A reassessment and appeals process is an integral part of all training and assessment pathways leading to a nationally recognised qualification or Statement of Attainment under the Australian Qualifications Framework.

Reassessments

Where necessary, reassessments are available to all students across all of the RTOs training services. Assessors will advise you what you can do if you receive a NYC for your assessment task. If you are deemed not yet competent in your initial assessment, you are allowed a second attempt. However, if you are deemed not yet competent in the second attempt, you may be required to re-enrol. It is important for Students to talk to the assessor if they have any concerns. Following reassessment students will be notified within five working days with further result.

Complaints and Appeals

A fair and impartial appeals process is available to students of the RTO. If a student wishes to appeal their assessment result, they may first discuss the issue with the assessor. If the student would like to proceed further with the request after discussions with the assessor a formal request is made in writing outlining the reason(s) for the appeal. The RTO's time period for the acceptance of appeals is 28 days after the student has been issued with the results of their assessment.

Every effort is made to settle the appeal to both the student's and the RTO's satisfaction. Each appeal may be heard by an independent person or panel. Each appellant has an opportunity to formally present his or her case and is given a written statement of the appeal outcomes, including reasons for the decision. Should the outcome not be acceptable to the student, they will be informed, in writing, of the opportunity to lodge a complaint with the national regulator, Australian Skills Quality Authority.

Eagle Training Services has a Complaints and Appeals policy and procedure which can be viewed upon request.

9. FEES, CHARGES & REFUNDS

Prior to enrolment all students will be informed of all fees and charges for the program they wish to enrol in.
