Training Delivery

Theory training occurs at Eagle Training Services NT training facilities. Students undertake the theory component in comfortable temperature regulated classrooms with the latest IT and audio-visual resources. All vehicle used in practical training are fitted with dual controls for maximum safety. The student's learning is supported with the provision of high quality learning materials and resources.

This training will be delivered in small groups in a face-to-face format, and will consist of theoretical and practical work. The class room based instruction involves power point presentations, interactive scenarios and role play along with verbal question and answer.

The practical sessions will be conducted from the training facility each day. Vehicles are fitted with dual controls and are either manual or automatic and seat the instructor and 3 passengers. There is one instructor dedicated to three students for the practical sessions. Students should be aware that prior to any practical driving tuition/assessment, they may be subject to an Alcohol Screening test. Under the provisions of the Service Provider Deed with the Licence Regulator (MVR), for the delivery of TLI41218 Certificate IV in Transport and Logistics (Road Transport – Car Driving Instruction), students may be subject to a monitoring Audit. Attendance at all sessions is required.
